

Please be sure your children are dressed for the weather. Hats, gloves, snow pants, coats, boots - layers work best. The students will go outside unless a Red Flag day is declared.

A Red Flag posted outside indicates that students will be able to enter the building upon arrival. The students will remain inside for the morning. Temperature changes throughout the day will determine if the students will go out for afternoon recess.

A Red Flag Day is when the outside temperature is reported to be less than 10 degrees. This includes "feels like" with the wind chill factor.
